ONE more page has added in the annals of this academy and one more volume of THE BAYONET has been produced. The editorial staff alone has not been responsible for the success of this magazine but the corps as a whole has taken increased interest and if their first efforts were not suitable for publication, they were persevering and tried again. Consequently, by trying again they eventually attained their end, and the staff wishes to thank those who have helped and we assure them that their efforts have not been in vain.

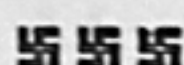

About three months ago, it was rumored that A. M. A. would publish another Recall but after careful investigation, Colonel Roller decided that a Final Bayonet would serve the purpose as well and leave no doubt as to financial success of the edition.

Practically everything that the Recall could contain will be found in these pages and the subscriber will have the same goods at about one-tenth the price.

We have tried to give everyone a square deal in writing the history of this term and hope no one will be offended or feel slighted.

This magazine will give the reader a fair impression of the literary merit of this school but if, in reading it, you find anything or many things, which are not quite up to the standard, do not be too hasty in your criticism, for the entire staff is composed of new and inexperienced men. A greater part of the contents are original and we hope this issue will be favorably received by all who read it.

So without further ceremony we submit this publication to your approval or disapproval. The BAYONET takes this opportunity to extend to its friends its heartiest friendship and best wishes.

An Appreciation

THE cadets wish to extend their thanks and appreciation to Major Roller and Captain Mecredy for coaching the different branches of athletics. Major Roller developed a fast and creditable football team out of some very light material and Captain Mecredy coached a second team that gave varsity excellent practice and in fact played them "to a standstill" more than once. Although the varsity was light, the men had the old spirit so characteristic of Augusta teams and, after a few weeks of coaching, had a very successful year on the gridiron.

Captain Mecredy, who captained the V. M. I. basketball team last year, held full sway in this branch and showed his coaching ability by developing a team that won a large majority of the games. As coach, he trained the men under him until their power of endurance was marvelous and their spirit was unsurpassed.

Major Roller had charge of the baseball team and selected a good, hard-working nine out of a long list of promising candidates.

The men, who have received instruction under these two able coaches will appreciate the full value of such a course when they try to make a place on some college team because anything to be a success must have a good foundation.

We hope to have these two men for coaches next year and trust they will be as successful in athletics as they have been in the term just past.

The BAYONET staff for the past session, 1911-'12, has never been surpassed and each member deserves much praise for his labors. The magazine under their guidance was an improvement both in material substance and general appearance over previous years. Morrosy, as Editor-in-Chief, proved himself an eminent writer. His editorials were strong, consistent and to the point. May he continue long to wield "the pen of a ready writer." Gilliam, F., assisted by Clemmer, T., had charge of the Financial Department and through the business abilities, as well as good ideas, improved the appearance of the book very much by inserting appropriate "cuts" in the various departments and changing the cover design. Rodgers and Schwalb, Personal Editors, displayed great talent witticism in selecting and collecting "rare ones," from time to time, on the side lines. The cadets took much interest in scanning this (joke) column. Waters, T., and Clarke, P., Athletic Editors, deserve credit for their labors and neat style in which the various accounts of games were handed in. West, H., and Hawley, Alumni Editors, always had interesting notes concerning the doings and whereabouts of old cadets. Hawley wrote a poem each month and drew much praise for the paper and himself.

Captain Fitzgerald, the faculty Editor, was a competent adviser and handled the inexperienced men well.

It is to be hoped the BAYONET staff for next year will be able to raise the standard even higher than that set by their predecessors.

—A Reader.

Farewell

Well, farewell, friends is here,
And everybody's glad;
But have you ever stopped to think
That the party is going to end?
Whether it's by an old boy,
You will be very apt to cry,
When the last morning comes
To say "Good-bye."

If you have been out for a while,
You may be feeling you are your stride,
And you've helped the dear old boys and girls
Spread their wings far and wide.
You'll be feeling you are your stride,
And you've helped the dear old boys and girls
Spread their wings far and wide.

Literary Department

There are times when we are
And feeling rather bad,
We will say things we do not mean,
And curse the old school boys,
But when that first-morn rolls around,
And we are all feeling spry,
I'll tell you fellows, it's a hard
To say "Good-bye."

Some will never come again,
And it will seem like they have died,
To go through the world and life

Farewell

Well, fellows, finals is here,
And naturally everyone's glad;
But have you ever stopped to think
That the parting is going to be sad?
Whether a rat or an old boy,
You will be very apt to cry,
When the final morning comes
To say "Good-bye."

If you have been out for athletics,
Say in football you hit your stride,
And you've helped the dear old blue and white
Spread her fame far and wide,
You'll see two fellows at the station,
And then they'll turn away,
The tears will trickle down their cheeks,
For probably that's their last "Good-bye."

There are times when we are sore
And feeling rather bum;
We will say things we do not mean
And curse the old school some,
But when that final morn rolls 'round,
And we are all feeling spry,
I'll tell you fellows, it's surely hard,
To say "Good-bye."

Some will never meet again,
And it will seem like they have died,
To go through this world and life
With other fellows by your side.
We have made some good friends here
And this you cannot deny;
But every one is the same when it's time
To say "Good-bye."

There are a few probably
Who never will return;
Now I'll tell you these are the ones
Whose throats will surely burn.
To those who've never experienced it,
Towards the last you will be spry,
But you'll find it different when the train has gone
And you've said your last "Good-bye."

Now, as this is the last,
We'll make it our very best.
And through the last few weeks
Let's not lay around and rest,
And so on through our whole life,
Even when we have laid down to die,
We can look upon the world with an honest face,
And breathe our last "Good-bye."

Lest We Forget

HAVING completed the aeroplane over which I had been working since I left A. M. A., I decided to take a trip and visit some of my old school friends.

I started from College Park, near Washington, D. C., on the first of April.

My course was due north when I started but I was soon headed directly for Baltimore.

As I neared the city I could see that there was quite a few aeroplanes up above the city. I was trying to make a turn to the left to avoid an oncoming biplane, when my steering gear broke. My machine kept straight ahead and had collided with the other one before I could think. Both machines were on the carth in a moment. I was helped from the wreck and found myself all right except for a few slight bruises. The other driver seemed to be hurt quite badly and had to be taken to the hospital.

I had my machine put in a repair shop and I stayed at a hotel while it was being repaired.

On the following day I went to the hospital to see how badly the other man was hurt. Upon inquiring for him I was told where to find him. I went as directed and soon found his room.

The doctor met me at the door and said that I might have a few words with the patient. After a second look at the doctor I recognized "She" Bowman. I then shook hands with him and we exchanged a few words. The patient was lying on the bed in the corner of the room. When I spoke to him he looked at me and smiled. He extended his right hand, which had not been injured in the wreck and I grasped it. I noticed, however, that his hand was very small and to my surprise saw that it was "Hogeye" Waters. He told me that he was just learning to drive an aeroplane and that his ascension the day before would have been his first successful one, had it not been for the accident.

He said that he was not badly injured and expected to be out again in a short time. He told me that his brother, Francis, was in the army, and was stationed somewhere in the west.

My aeroplane was now in readiness once more, so I bid farewell to Baltimore and sped on my way to Wheeling. There I had the pleasure of seeing Allen Reid, who was acting on the stage and also Allyn Schwalb, who was singing for vaudeville shows.

I next stopped at Pittsburg to take in a supply of fuel and while I was there I saw a ball game. Pittsburg was to play Boston and I got there just in time to see the game. One of the Pittsburg players knocked a home run which brought two other men in and won the game for Pittsburg. I was told that the man who starred was John Gallagher, so I decided to see him after the game. Sure enough it was "Vet" Gallagher who had played for A. M. A. in the past.

"Gloomy" Collingwood was in Pittsburg and was in business with one of the manufacturing companies. He was still as lazy as usual and hated to get up in the mornings.

I dined in the Richmond Hotel in Philadelphia on the following day and was surprised to recognize two of the waiters as Goodwin and Brice. I also visited "The Gibbon & Gregg Steam Laundry" before leaving the city. Gibbon was about to get married and Gregg was quite a sport.

I arrived at New York City a few days later and remained there quite a while. Among the first of my friends that I saw was Joe Carpenter. He was running a large machine shop and was also president of one of the street car companies. He said that he expected to go abroad for the summer with Hugh Campbell. Also Bulkley, Carter, and Leibler held very good positions there. Archibald Harrington was married and lived in Brooklyn.

Don Hight was conductor on the street cars. His favorite motto was, "Two for the company and one for the conductor."

In Chicago I was greeted by "Berg" Morrasy. He was a lawyer and also a president of one of the large banks there.

Webb Powell was in charge of a meat packing company there.

I heard that Arnold and Paul Hanger were raising wheat in Minnesota to a large extent.

I met "Chas." Carson in St. Louis and found that he was just on a visit there. He was expecting to return to Colgate in a few days. I was invited to go with him, but did not wish to go that far west. He was a "coal digger" out there, or at least he was at the head of some coal mines near Colgate.

Later, as I walked down the street, I spied a large electrical power plant and as I needed a few articles in that line, I stepped in the supply store. There I saw "Sleepy" Anderson sitting at a desk in the rear of the room. He was chief electrician of the whole electrical plant, and said that Hoover was one of his engineers. He showed me through the whole thing, and I had a few words with Hoover. He was working over a large electrical machine, which was designed to drive all of the other machinery in the house.

"Andy" told me that John Bartholdi was a large ranch owner in Arizona. There was also another city being built there near his ranch. Bartholdi was the founder of it.

After going Southward for some time, I noticed that my motor was not working right, so I landed in Jackson, Mississippi, to get it fixed. Upon inquiring I was referred to the Robinson & Wheeler Aeroplane Manufacturing Company." I went to their office where I was fortunate enough to find both Mitchell Robinson and "Brit" Wheeler. They had my areoplane overhauled and everything fixed as good as new.

Mitchell said that he had heard from "She" Waters and that "She" was in command of the soldiers stationed at Fort Leavenworth.

On my way to Louisville I passed over a number of white fields which proved to be a large cotton plantation owned by "Childress" Rodgers. Childress was not at home at the time, but had gone to Florida to hunt.

Arriving at Louisville, I purchased a newspaper and started reading. One thing which I noticed was the name of the editor. It was C. H. Shield. I went around to see him and he told me to visit the St. James Hotel before I left.

Well, when I went there, whom should I find but Hiram Phelps as proprietor of the hotel. Hiram told me that he had seen Mial Lyons while he was passing through Louisiana, and that Mial was preparing to enter the ring as a light-weight in the following year.

I also met "Sherlock" Felts who was a detective. He had two partners, Franke Fox and Gibson Harman. The three were considered as the best in the South. They were then on the trail of several murderers. The crimes were committed in Lynchburg, but the murderers had escaped, and were going west. I wished them luck and went on to Salem, Ohio. I walked into a post office to get some stamps and a few post cards to send. The man who waited on me was "Jew" Lora. He was postmaster there. "Jew" had also joined the married men's club.

In Charleston, West Virginia, I saw Cohen in the doorway of his shoe store. He wanted me to buy some shoes, but I did not need them, so I went on up the street. I spent the night and part of the next day in the Hotel de Leitch.

Burdett was a doctor, and Ray was in charge of the largest hospital there.

Now I entered Virginia. Lynchburg was my first place to stop.

There was still a few of my acquaintances there. I met Bailey Dawson on the street and thought by the looks of his clothes that he was a minister.

I questioned him, and he said that he was a Baptist minister. He also told me that Frank Acree was a large contractor and was kept busy out of town a great deal of the time by his work. Hughes and Clarke were running a large dry goods store. Frank Gilliam was married and was living somewhere in the West. Last of all I saw Sidney Goodman, who was in the liquor business. I heard that Henry and John Crute were making a success raising tobacco in Buckingham County. I made a short stay at Roanoke, where I visited Captain Mecredy's Military School. He was the commandant. The school had quite a large attendance for the few years which it had been running.

"Bill" Henson and "Red" Hamlin had graduated from college and were teaching for Capt. Mecredy in his school.

I now started for Richmond but my mind changed and I went up through the Valley. Harrisonburg looked as if it had been deserted, so I kept on to the large city of Ft. Defiance.

Lowenbach was Mayor of the city and Crist was President of the Valley Railroad. The railroad was much better than it used to be, and was steadily growing better. Halderman was in the street car company at Ft. Defiance. Several other boys were working in Ft. Defiance. Ben and George Bailey were farming a few miles from the city. I went up to A. M. A. and there I found a new brick barracks and also a fine Athletic Field. Charles S. Roller, the Third, was preparing to enter V. M. I. in the following term. Prof. J. S. Neff was teaching at A. M. A. and also Dug Fraser was teaching music in Staunton.

Tom Clemmer was farming in Middlebrook. He had a very fine-looking place. Frank Clemmer was working in Staunton, but made his home with Tom.

At Charlottesville I found "Marse Charlie" Julian Vest Wingfield still driving cows on the farm. I now wandered back to Richmond. Pete Christian and "Honk" Sutton were detectives and were becoming famous. Randolph Gilliam was vice president of an aeroplane company there. Robert Sharp was in the employ of the company and was testing aeroplanes to find any defect in them. Charleton and Peple had joined the Richmond Blues.

In Newport News I had a hard time finding any of the A. M. A. boys, but at last, while visiting Fortress Monroe I saw Bray. He was a commissioned officer there. He said that "Happy" Mason and Elliott Braxton had joined the Navy.

I now returned to "Our Capital." Wilford Robinson was a stage manager in one of the theatres.

McGuire had invented a new engine to be operated by liquid air. It was supposed to be less expensive and more powerful than the other engines. Also it was lighter for the same horsepower than any other engine made. "Monty" Corse was a patent lawyer and had just succeeded in getting the patent on this engine through. McGuire sold his patent to Joe Gunby who was going to manufacture it in Baltimore.

Here I will end my trip. I enjoyed the trip very much and only wish that I could have seen more of A. M. A.'s alumni.

Here's to old A. M. A. and may she ever prosper.

With a Vevo! Vivo! Vum!
It's just as plain as plain can be
We've got old ——— up a tree
With a Vevo!
With a Vivo!
With a Vevo! Vivo! Vum.

Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah—Augustia(h) Augustia(h).
(Repeated four times, gets faster each time, so as to imitate a locomotive.)

Dewey, Hobson, Sampson, Shafter,
Do you know whom we are after?
Blood and thunder, sis! boom! bang!
We are after the ——— gang.

Rah! Rah!—A. M. A.
Rah! Rah!—A. M. A.
Rah! Rah!—A. M. A.
Team, Team, Team.

Sis-s-s, Sis-s-s.
Boom! Bah!
Augusta, Rah!

(To the tune of "The Old Gray Bonnet.")

See the white and blue colors,
We're the boys from Roller's,
We will leave old ——— in the shade.
We will show them running,
We will teach them punting
For that's how a touchdown is made.

(To the tune of "Blue Bells of Scotland.")

Farewell old ———
Farewell to you.
You can't play ———ball like you used to do.
Mid A. M. A.'s colors, mid A. M. A.'s yells,
You and your——ball team can go to (any yell).

Oskey wee, wee;
Oskey wow, wow;
Holey monkey eye,
Old Augusta eye,
Military eye, acke demey eye
Roller's, Roller's,
Rah! Rah! Rah!

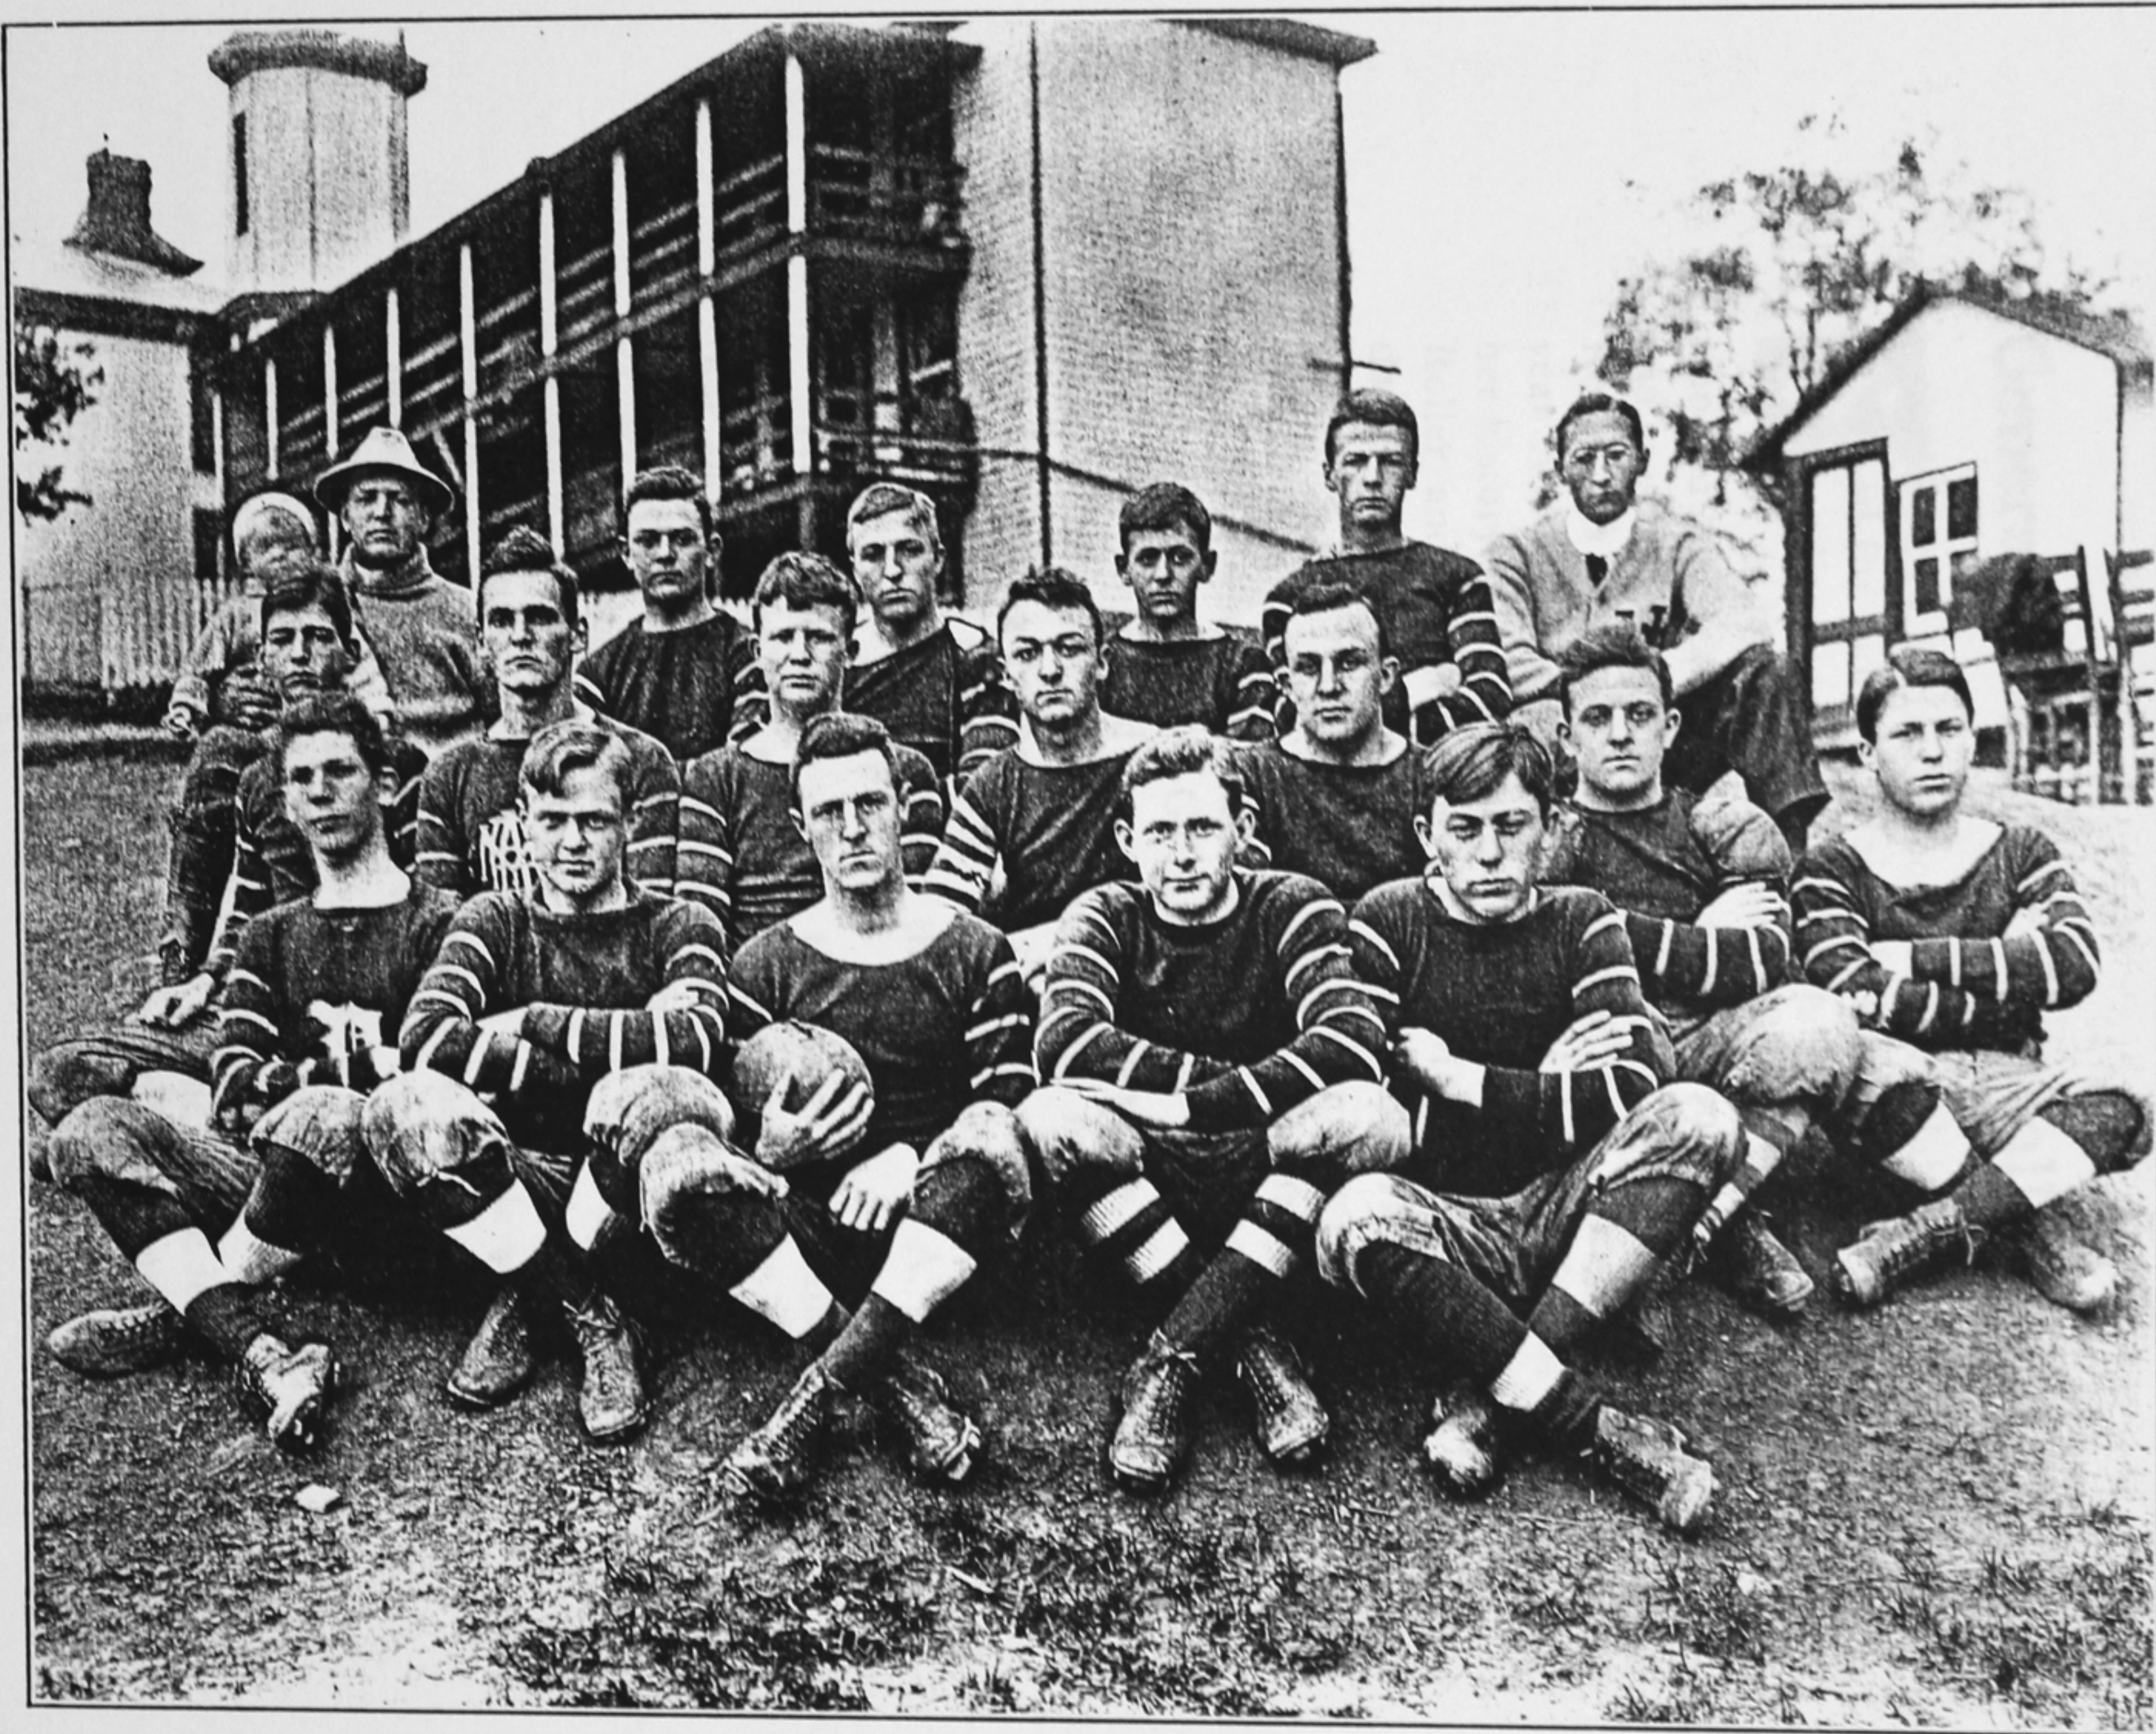

(To tune of "You're a Grand Old Flag.")

We've a team so true,
Wearing the white and the blue,
And we've come out to win boys, to-day.
We will rush right through, as we use to do,
In memory of old A. M. A.
Through old ——'s line we will gain every time
As we did in the —— game.
Let's all join in a wahoo, wow,
Take your hats off to A. M. A.

(To the tune of "Our Director's March.")

Hard luck to our opponents,
They'll never score
And through their line
We will gain once more.
Then down the field we'll hike it
For old A. M. A.,
Then all together boys we'll win to-day.

General Review of Football Season

SHORTLY after school started candidates were called for football. Major Roller, our able coach, immediately took charge of the hopefuls and it may be said of him that now he is just the same coach who led our teams through many a successful season, and at one time participated in the game himself. Major Roller has both played and coached at V. M. I. This year A. M. A. has turned out one of the finest teams in her history, partly due to the excellent coaching of Major Roller and his assistant, Captain Mecredy, and partly due to the grit and persistency of the players.

From last year's eleven only four men were here to report at the call. These were: Gallagher, who was elected captain, Acree, who was elected assistant captain, Reid and Morrasy. Gallagher, who played half last year was transferred to quarterback this year, and in that position directed his team to victory many times. It was this young Irishman who shone in many places and who has been regarded by Major Roller as one of the fastest and headiest players that donned an A. M. A. uniform.

Next there comes Acree, the assistant captain, who showed that he was not only a stone wall on the defense but could also carry the pigskin for wonderful gains when they were needed. It was this player who on more than one occasion baffled our opponents when our goal was in danger. He held down his old job at right tackle.

On the other side of the line at left tackle was "Tubby" Reid, our last year's star guard, who soon showed his opponents and the onlookers that his meat could not keep him from covering ground. "Tubby" was there all the time and surely deserved getting placed on Virginia's all-prep eleven.

"Bugs" Morrasy, the midget of the eleven let everybody know that he was in the game and broke up many a play which might have proved disastrous to our side. Indeed this youngster was the terror of the opposing backfield and but few plays were tried around his end as they all knew what "that stubby guy was made of."

At center Tom Clemmer, the Middlebrook haymaker, showed his caliber. It was a thing unknown for him to fumble the ball and he played the game of his life on the defensive. Tom went through the season with an enviable record and was a hard and earnest worker.

At right guard Bartholdi, the young Arizona cow, finally won that position in a field of many candidates. Trying at the first of the season for a position in the back field Bartholdi was changed into the line. Here he put up as plucky a game as could be asked for and held up his part of the agreement to perfection. He was in the game from the first to last whistle and surely did his duty.

At left guard Schwalb, of last year's scrubs, soon proved that he was worthy of the position. By his persistency and fighting, many yards were lessened from our opponents' gains, and he was always there.

On right end, from last year's scrubs also, we had the alert and determined "Doug." Fraser. Calm and collected, he was right beside Acree to "bust up" the attack of our opponents. He was always ready to deliver the goods and this is what he did.

Taken all in all the line was one that, although light, was one of the strongest in Virginia. Every man was in the game all the time, was ready to break up the opponent's attack and as the coach often expressed it, "made holes on the offensive through which a horse and wagon could be driven."

At fullback, Gibbon, one of the only three "rats" who made the team, proved that he fully deserved being placed in that position. It was he who played an all-round excellent game. Many times when we were in need of a couple of yards "Gibbie" came along and did the work.

At left-half Burdett was one of the most consistent players on the team. He was swift and like a battering ram "Birdy" slipped through the opposing team's lines for ten- and fifteen-yard gains. He was right there on the defensive and his fleetness was one of his great benefactors as was illustrated in the Kable game.

Right-half was about the hardest position to fill of any on the team. Campbell, H., Bray and Carpenter had hand to hand struggles for supremacy, and not any of them had any real advantage, although Bray played in most games. All were excellent men and did their shares of the work without flaws.

On a whole our team did excellent work last season. For an opener we bucked up against V. M. I. and made a very creditable showing. As we had had only a week of practice and were playing against one of Virginia's strongest teams we expected defeat but put up a plucky game although licked 33 to 0.

A few weeks later the Staunton "Vets" came down the pike and met defeat to the tune of 34 to 0. It was an uninteresting game from start to finish, but as it was the first game on home grounds the onlookers were satisfied to see the boys in action.

For the third and fourth games, this time under supervision of Captain Mecredy, the team traveled to Greenbrier, W. Va., to play two games with G. P. S., one being played Saturday and the other Monday. Saturday's game was hard and evenly contested, neither side being able to cross the white line that would have meant victory. We deserved to win, but luck played into our opponents' hands when we seemed to have a good chance. Monday saw the white and blue go down as G. P. S. won a hard-fought game nine to nothing, with luck dealing them the cards again. A. M. A.'s boys put up the same plucky game as on Saturday, but lost.

After another week passed, A. M. A. met Fishburne on the latter's field and defeated them by a score of 6 to 5. A second touchdown was made by us, but it was not counted. In this game we showed superior to F. M. S.

Shortly after this game, in a sea of mud, Massanutten Institute took a good dose from our team, when we slipped one over them by a score of 28 to 0. The game, although played on a "bum" day, was not without interest, as it was great sport to see a fellow take a headlong dive for 10 to 15 yards.

Four days later with Gallagher and Gibbon on the hospital list, our team traveled to Woodberry, and just missed having out last year's score of 18 to 0, being turned against us by one point, as they beat us 17 to 0. For the first two quarters we had the best of it, but then they started piling up their points.

For the last game of the season, a game that was the hardest fought this year, and one that cut off the relations in athletics between us and our old-time and bitterest rivals, Kable's, we beat them by 6 to 3. In this game every man had that "Do-and-Die" spirit in his veins and although outweighed by 10 to 15 pounds to the man, showed that nothing could down old A. M. A.'s fighting spirit. Urged on by her supporters, every man was a young engine that had the irresistible power which has won many a game for A. M. A. Time and again in the face of defeat our team bore onward until the final whistle, when standing was found to be difficult by many of our players, who had stood the strain of the game. Indeed every man did all that a human being could do and they deserved their hard-fought-for praise.

A. M. A.'s second team this year was one that has surely done credit to the school. All of these youngsters stood notably well the constant hammering of the 'Varsity without a flinch and was always ready to receive their share of the knocks. As an example of their work, it may be mentioned that the scrubs beat S. H. S. 41 to 5. Under the supervision of Capt. Mecredy, they gave the 'Varsity that practice which made A. M. A. the champions of the Shenandoah Valley.

Three A. M. A. Men On All-Virginia Prep.

Old A. M. A. is indeed overjoyed to see that three of her warriors of the gridiron have held up her colors in such a way as to be picked by the more experienced, for Virginia's all prep. school team. These three are Gallagher, our captain, who has led his team to many a notable conflict; Acree, who has held down his side of the line without a flaw, acting as Gallagher's assistant, while on the field, and Reid, A., who balances his side of the line to hold even with that of Acree's. Indeed every one of these men deserved the position they were placed in, and it may be safely said that no two finer tackles could be found in any prep. for many miles from here, than Acree and Reid, and in Gallagher we have one of the finest backs in the country, colleges included. So this space is spent in praise of the three men who have upheld their school's colors in many a bloody conflict.

The chosen all Va. prep. is as follows:

Right Guard	Addison (E. H. S.)
Left Guard	Moomaw (J. S.)
Right Tackle	Acre (A. M. A.)
Left Tackle	Reid, A. (A. M. A.)
Right End	Speer (E. H. S.)
Left End	Ryan (W. F. S.)
Center	Priddy (W. F. S.)
Quarter Back	Aexander (F. M. S.)
Full Back	Simmons (W. F. S.)
Right Half	Walker (W. F. S.)

General Review Basketball Season

IMMEDIATELY after the close of football season, candidates for basketball were called. For the first week about twenty-five reported for practice but as time went by they dropped off one by one until but a little more than two full teams were left. Nevertheless under the unceasing coaching of Capt. McCredy, a team was rounded into shape that was one to be proud of and one that won by sheer pluck and determination. From last year's monogram men, Gallagher and Schwalb were the only ones to report. The former was elected captain and the latter assistant captain.

At guard, Gallagher put up the same classy game that characterized his playing last year. He was there all the time always plugging away and the veteran deserved the praise he received. Sometimes he was transferred to forward where he shot many a goal. Schwalb played left guard and there did himself credit by playing fine ball, all the time. He went about his work untiringly and fought till the last ditch. With Schwalb and Gallagher as guards we had as fine a pair as can be found.

Center was the hard position to fill. At the first of the year Collingwood played a good game, but with sickness, he fell off. Finally Gibbon was placed there, and in him, A. M. A. has found an excellent man. "Gib" can't only shoot goals but can also "lift his feet off the floor."

At right forward Gregg delivered the goods and a harder worker is difficult to be found. Gregg always kept nagging at the game and showed he was the right man to deliver the goods.

At left forward Clark, P., who was a sub last year, let everybody know that he was in the game. When his opponent wanted to "fuff" it, Pen could give all that was wanted. He played great ball from start to finish.

Rodgers, the other man, who made his "R," proved to everybody that he could hold down any job except center on the quintet. He was right there all the time and fitted in well at any place.

* * * * *

Basketball season opened with a victory for A. M. A. over S. C. I. by a score of 21 to 19. Unexpectedly they had a good team and the game was fast and hard-fought from start to finish. Everybody was in the game from start to finish and with good rooting won.

For the second game A. M. A. defeated C. H. S. in an extremely uninteresting game. The boys got together towards the end and therefore won 25 to 10.

Immediately after the C. H. S. game we licked S. Y. M. C. A. quintet by 36 to 10. The game was hard fought and well played. Our team got together better than in preceding games and therefore won handily.

For the second time this term A. M. A. defeated S. C. I., but this time it was by a score of 35 to 15. The game was scrappy throughout and each team fought until the last ditch.

For the first time this season, A. M. A. was defeated by a score of 50 to 38, the victor being Frederick College, who are the champions of Maryland. The game was fast and interesting all the time and good team work saw us climbing the point column but we never got enough to win.

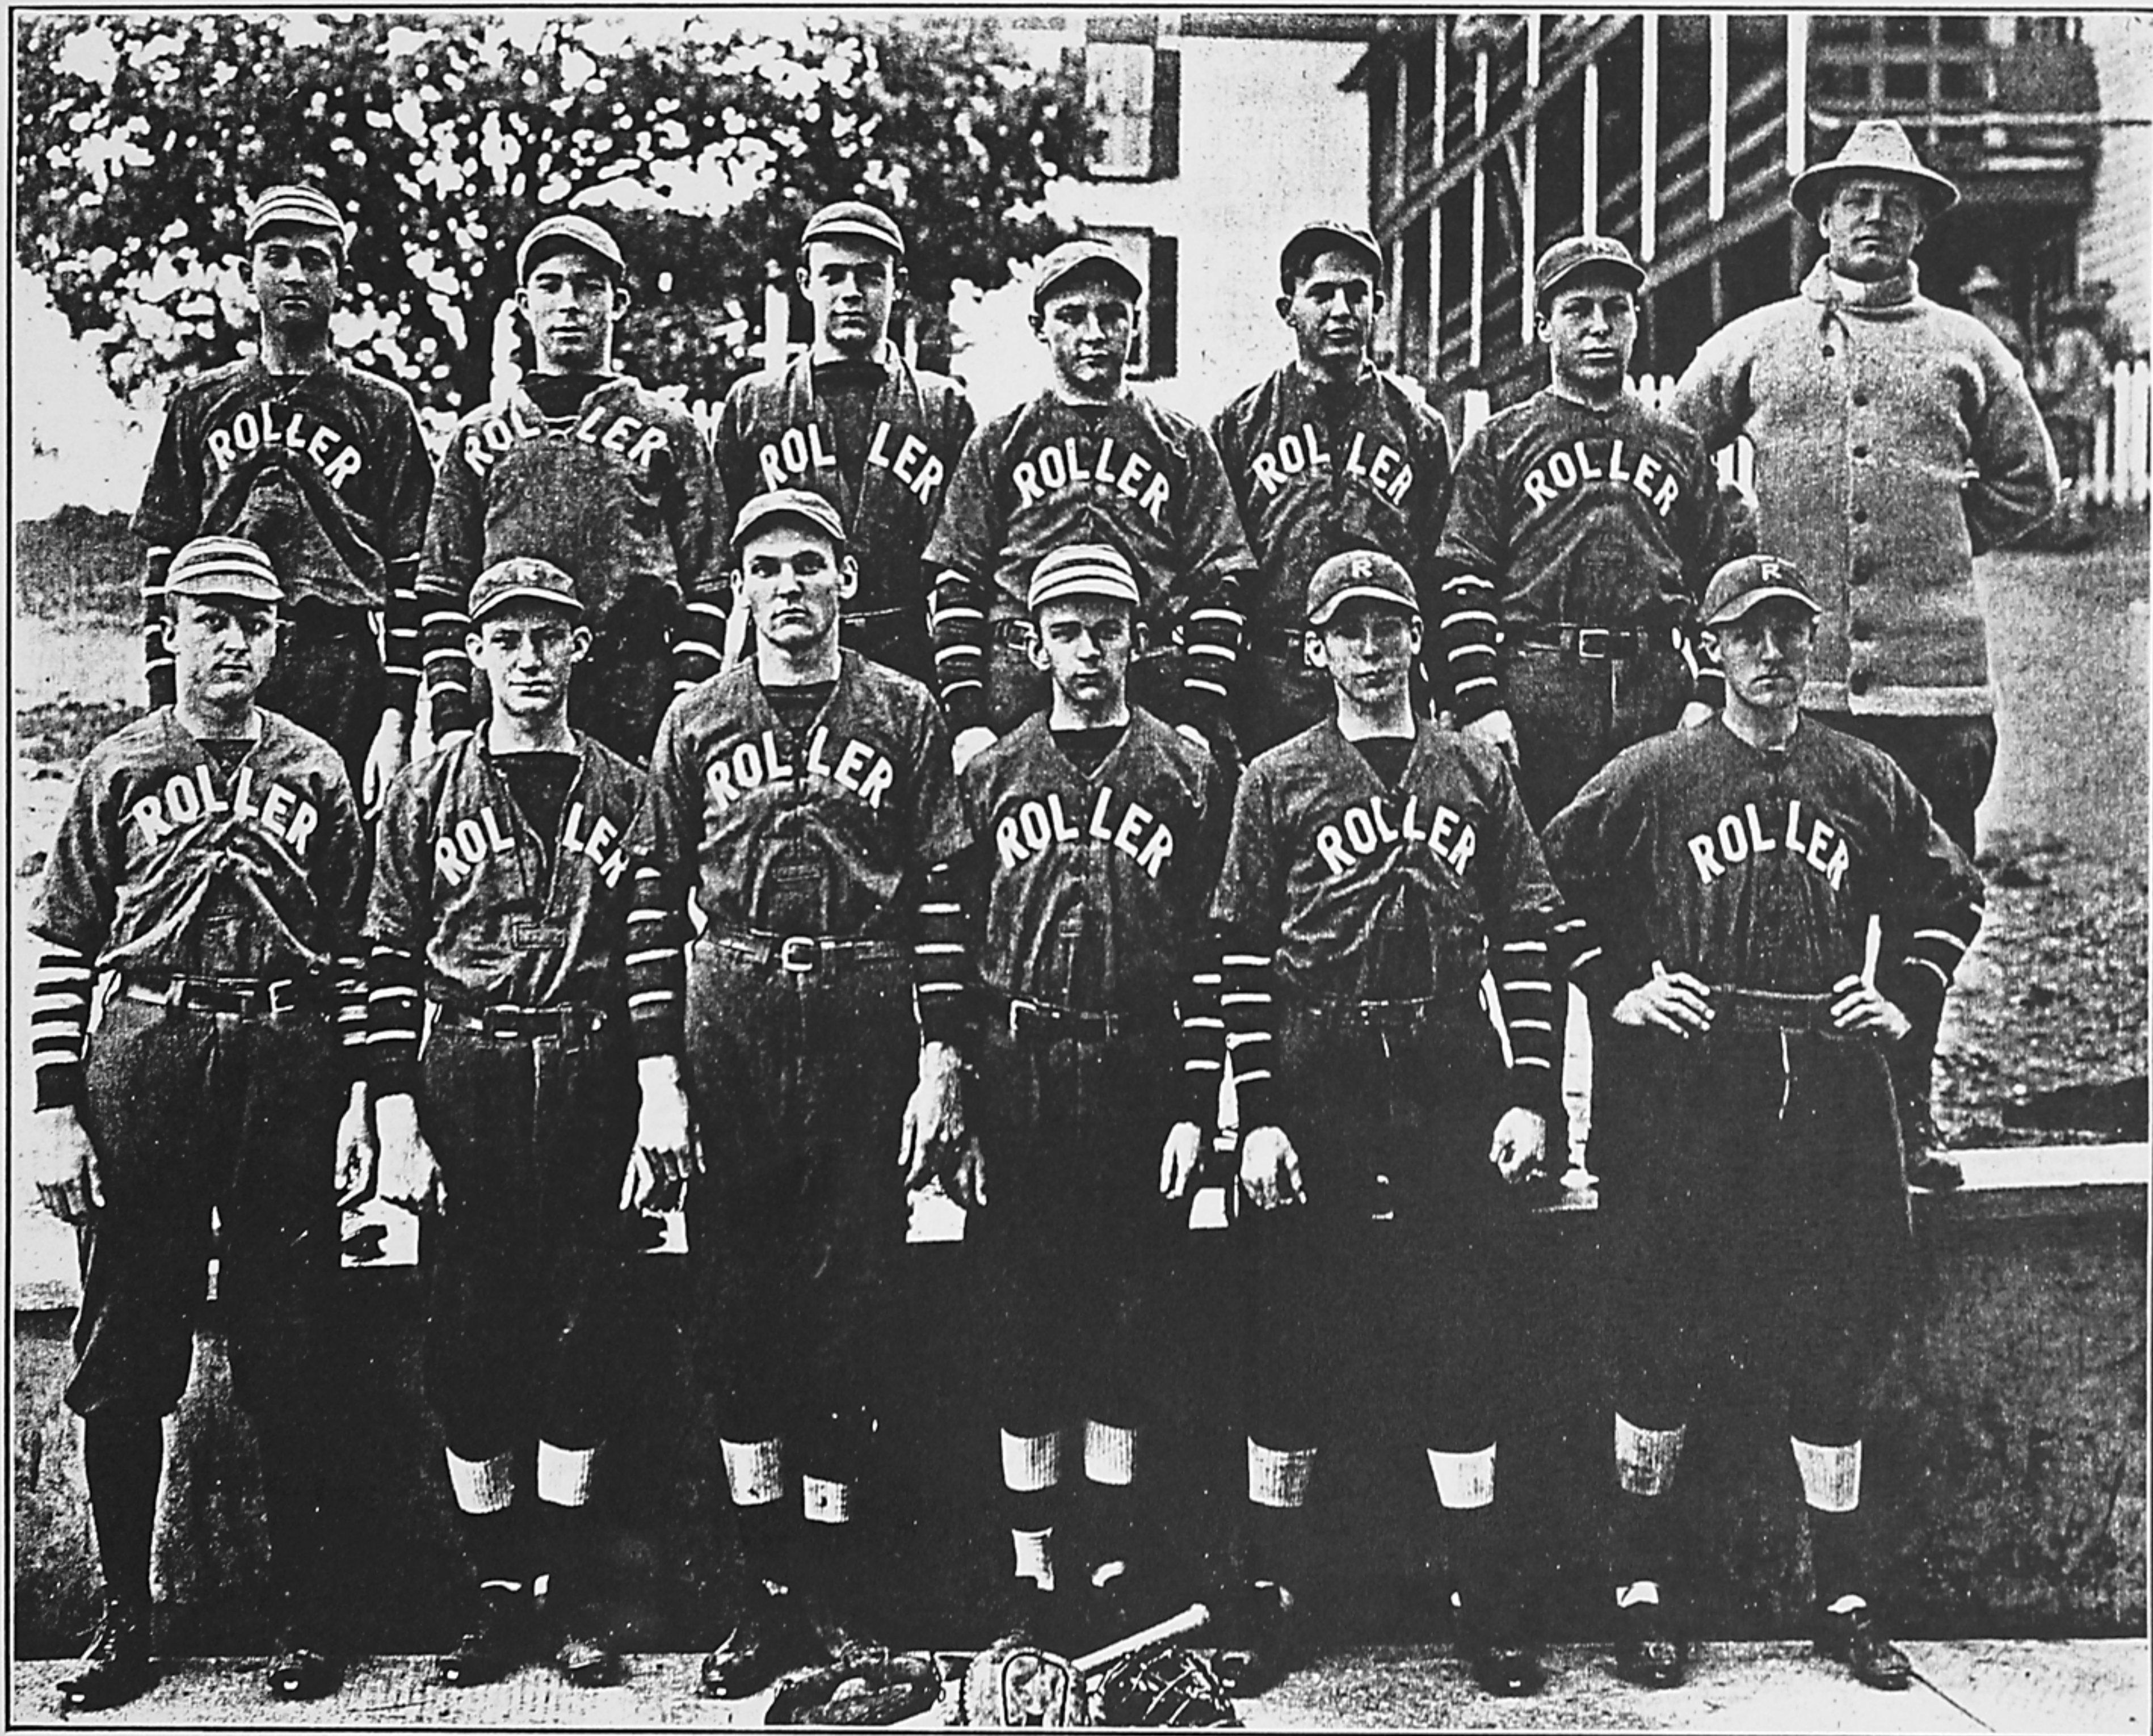

Shortly after the Frederick College game our team traveled to Charlottesville and there met defeat at the hands of J. H. S. by a score of 37 to 19. Two A. M. A. men were put out of the game for fouling and this with the size of the floor, greatly handicapped us. The boys put up a strong game, but being greatly out-weighted could not do much.

After this game, our quintet, under Capt. Mecredy's supervision, went to Greenbrier, W. Va., to play G. P. S. in two games there. The first A. M. A. lost, by the close score of 27 to 23. The game was well played and was fast, everybody doing his utmost. In the second game A. M. A. showed her superiority by winning by 18 to 12. Both teams were determined to win, but by accurate goal shooting we came out ahead. The game was interesting and exciting throughout, one team taking the lead one minute and then the other.

A. M. A.'s scrub team this year was one, although light, showed that they knew the game. Each man knew the part he was to take and if they would have only been a little larger would have been a team hard for the average school team to beat. They had two games with S. H. S. and although defeated in both, put up good games, the scores being 21 to 20, and 27 to 19.

General Review of Baseball

AS soon as the basketball season was completed and warm weather set in, candidates for baseball filed out on the campus in large quantities that bid fair for a good team. All new material were anxious to show what they were made of and consequently there were some hard fights for positions. From last year's team Acree, Gallagher and Morrasy were on hand, and also Tallant of the 1908 team. Acree was elected captain, and Tallant assistant captain.

Acree, as last year, plays center field, but at the same time is ready to take his turn in the box when called upon. He has the goods in both places and also is one of the strongest batters. He plays the same good game that he put up last year and makes an excellent captain.

At second base, we see the same old reliable Toad Tallant who has shown that two years off A. M. A.'s field makes no difference with him, and that he can play the same game he did then. With the same alertness Toad covers the midway sack, as he did a few years ago. He has been a great addition to the team and he is also there with the big stick.

Out in shortfield, the veteran Gallagher, with the same skill and quickness that he has displayed in the last few years, proves that he not only knows the game but can play it like a "big leaguer." Vet is always there and it would be hard for A. M. A. to do without him. He is the big gun with the willow, as he tops the batting list, and poles out many a hit if they are needed.

Morrasy, who substituted last season, proved that he can handle the shoots of our pitchers to perfection. "Bugs" can always be depended upon and is fighting all the time. Although short he gets everything coming his way and can also bat.

Covering the initial sack, we see Sheppe, who proves that he has the goods. He is in the game all the time and comes along with a timely bingle when needed. Although not a "Bill" Collingwood, Sheppe shows that he is on the job all the time.

Down around the "hot corner" we see old flat-footed Gibbon. Gib grabs up everything that comes his way and being fast is right there when it comes to base running. With his long and solid hits, Gib is liable to break up a game at any time.

In left field, we see Peepe Dudley doing stunts. As a lead-off man he is right on top as, by his fleetness, he is liable to show any fielder up. He too can lambast 'em as is shown by his batting average.

In center field, when Acree is doing twirling stunts, Tom Clemmer holds down that job to perfection. Tom seldom lets a ball slip through his nippers and is some acrobat as was shown in the S. C. I. game.

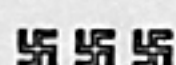

Down in right field Crist, although very quiet, lets all his opponents know he is in the game. In general, he is a utilityman as he can do anything but catch, and can do it well. He hasn't had a chance to show his pitching ability, but in practice games shows he has the goods. He is a heavy hitter, being placed in the "clean up" position and always gives a good contribution.

For another pitcher we see Dave Carter on the firing line. It has to be admitted by our opponents that Dave has 'em fooled before they come up as his records will show. Carter is ready and willing to deliver the goods at any time, and nothing pleases him better than to see batters eating out of his hand and taking a back seat via the struckout route.

Our back stop department was greatly strengthened this year, by the addition of "Pud" Starret. Hardly anyone on the field has a better wing than "Pud." His long shot is nipping runners off when they try to steal and he can also lay one out.

So this year, with Major Roller and Capt. Fitzgerald as coaches we will be able to clean up anything that comes our way with an even break of luck. Everybody plays hard ball, and fights to the last ditch. So with good support from the side lines who will be able to beat us?

Every man knows his duty and does it to the best of his ability. We have some of the best prep schools in Virginia to go up against and anyone who follows the games closely will agree that A. M. A. has by far the superior team.

A. M. A. 0 Grottoes 0

As an opener this season we tied Grottoes in a trial game. As it was the opener Major Roller tried out most all of his new material and therefore we had trouble connecting with the ball and consequently could not cross the rubber. Acree and Gibbon went to the mound for us and both made creditable showings, keeping Grottoes to four singles. Starrit and Morrasy were on the receiving end and each held the pitchers up well. Their infield was not changed during the whole game and all of the infielders played their positions well. Tallant at second received six chances neatly but muffed one easy one. "Vet" Gallagher at short, ripped off two lightning-like double plays with Sheppe and both these youngsters played errorless ball. Gibbon at third also showed his caliber by accepting three chances without a slip. Of the outfielders, little can be said, as they received but few balls.

We had but few chances to cross the plate and those we did have were blasted by our inability to hit. The best chance came in the seventh when Sheppe landed one on the nose over left field fence, and did not come to a stop until he reached the midway station. Then he stole the third coner but there was no one to bring the batter home, so our best chance was blown to the wind. Our other chance came in the fifth when Gibbon singled, stole second, but died there.

Grottoes became mighty dangerous in the third. The first man struck out but the next three landed on the ball for hits and it was only through fast fielding that we pulled through. This was the only inning in which they had a look in.

Taking it as a whole, we played a good game, but it wouldn't hurt a bit if we could pick up in our hitting. But to-day the boys were up against fast pitching and that accounts for their inability to land safely.

A. M. A. 4, Mt. Sidney 6

After traveling to Mt. Sidney, our bunch of hopefuls met defeat at the hands of the dusky warriors of the nearby metropolis. Everything was going along fine and dandy until that fatal fifth and when the tide of battle had cleared away in that inning Mt. Sidney had counted five times and Gibbon, who was pitching, had to seek the protection of Acree's left arm. But indeed it was not all Gibbon's fault, by long shot, as Acree missed a hard hit ball out in center and on which two tallies were added to the home team's list. With no outs and five runs against him Gibbon gave way to Acree, who soon retired the side.

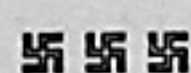

A. M. A. started the fireworks early. In the first after Dudley had gone out, Acree cracked out a single, but was nailed at second on a fielder's choice when Gibbon paisted one at the second baseman. But Gib was safe at first and came romping home when the veteran Gallagher gave one of Moore's shoots a ride over left field fence for three bases. By some ground rules Gallagher had to go back to second and advanced to third when Crist laid one out. But Tallant couldn't connect and was an easy out short to first. We scored again in third when Acree doubled over right field fence and Gallagher again came along with the necessary haymaker. Again in the fifth Gallagher showed his worthiness, for after Dudley had doubled, he brought the bacon by pasting one into left for two sacks.. Our last tally came in the eighth, when Gibbon got a life on an error, stole second and came when Crist's offering was fumbled.

Gallagher was the hero of the game, he getting two doubles and a single all of which hits brought in runs. He also fielded without a slip-up.

A. M. A. 4, F. M. S. 7

On May the 3rd, A. M. A. crossed bats with F. M. S.

Acree started out the game for A. M. A., but retired in favor of Carter, who went to the mound with one out and the bases full. He retired the side without a run, fanning both batters. The first seven men that faced him struck out and when the smoke had cleared away in the ninth he had twelve men on his strike-out list. Carter pitched a magnificent game, not allowing the visitors a single hit in six and two-thirds innings.

Gibbon was out with his batting eye, getting two hits. One of which was a three-bagger.

Morrasy also was hitting the pill. He getting a stinging double over sccond base.

Except for one inning, the whole team played a fine game and deserve high praise.

Morrow, for F. M. S., was batted hard in the fourth and fifth innings, but was very effective during the last part of the game.

As a whole Roller's played rings around Fishburne, but luck was against them and they were unable to overcome the lead. A. M. A. goes to F. M. S. on May the 20th and let us hope that we will have better luck.

A. M. A. 6, S. C. I. 11

Our team made the trip to S. C. I. and played the team of that school.

Kenny did the twirling for the home boys and had us at his mercy most of the time, although we found him for six runs and six hits.

Carter did the slab work for A. M. A. and was found for eighteen bingles, but on account of a creek in the out-field Clemmer was unable to get seven of them.

Our whole team played gilt edged ball, making only one error.

The star play of the game was a sensational catch by Clemmer, T.

The final score was eleven to six.

A. M. A. 14, Grottoes 2

Again the blue and white was victorious, winning from Grottoes by the score of fourteen to two.

The game was rather slow, because of the lack of interest taken in it, but A. M. A. managed to make the circuit fourteen times, while Grottoes could only get around twice.

Acree pitched a good game for A. M. A., allowing but six hits, and keeping them well scattered.

Densmore, for Grottoes, was tapped up rather sharply, thirteen hits being gotten off of him.

The team played together finely, only making one error, and if the good work is kept up, we ought to have a winning team this year.

A. M. A. 6, Miller School 5

In one of the prettiest games of the season, A. M. A. defeated Miller School six to five. For a long time the outcome of the game seemed to be doubtful, but at last old Roller's put one around the circuit for the winning run.

The star features of the game for A. M. A. were the batting of Dudley and Gibbon and the fielding of Gallagher. For Miller School Thomas drew the honors.

Acree was doing the slab work for A. M. A., and was very effective. Bragg, of Miller School, worked hard, and only for a few innings was he ineffective. He was also very strong, and showed that he had had able coaching.

A. M. A. 4, R. H. S. 1

A. M. A. played a very close game with R. H. S., the score being four to one. Both sides worked hard and deserved to win, but A. M. A. was the lucky one.

Carter pitched for the home boys and Fairbrother for the visitors. Carter got gilt edged support, while Fairbrother was not supported so well, consequently Carter had the better of the deal.

Gallagher secured the only extra base-hit, which was a two-bagger. Dudley, Acree, Gibbon and Sheppe, being the other lucky men with the willow.

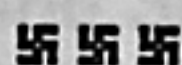

The whole team played well and worked together like veterans, and with a little more practice, ought to be in good working order.

The star of the game for R. H. S. was Fairbrother, for A. M. A., Gallagher came off with the honors.

A. M. A. 16, Jefferson School 1

Roller's had a complete walk-over in this game, only allowing Jefferson School one lone tally.

Carter did the pitching stunt, and allowed the visitors only one hit, while our whole team hit for one or more safeties. Gallagher and Crist batted a thousand in this game; Crist getting four out of four times up, and Gal lagher getting five out of five times up, one a home-run, and another went for a three-bagger.

Jefferson School used two pitchers, Flannigan and Harman, but the two were unable to hold down the heavy hitting team of A. M. A.

A. M. A. 12, Jefferson School 11

A. M. A. played Jefferson School on May the fourth, and defeated them for the second time. The team was late in getting to Charlottesville and the last part of the game was played in the darkness.

A. M. A. got six hits more than their opponents, but they were bunched and counted for runs.

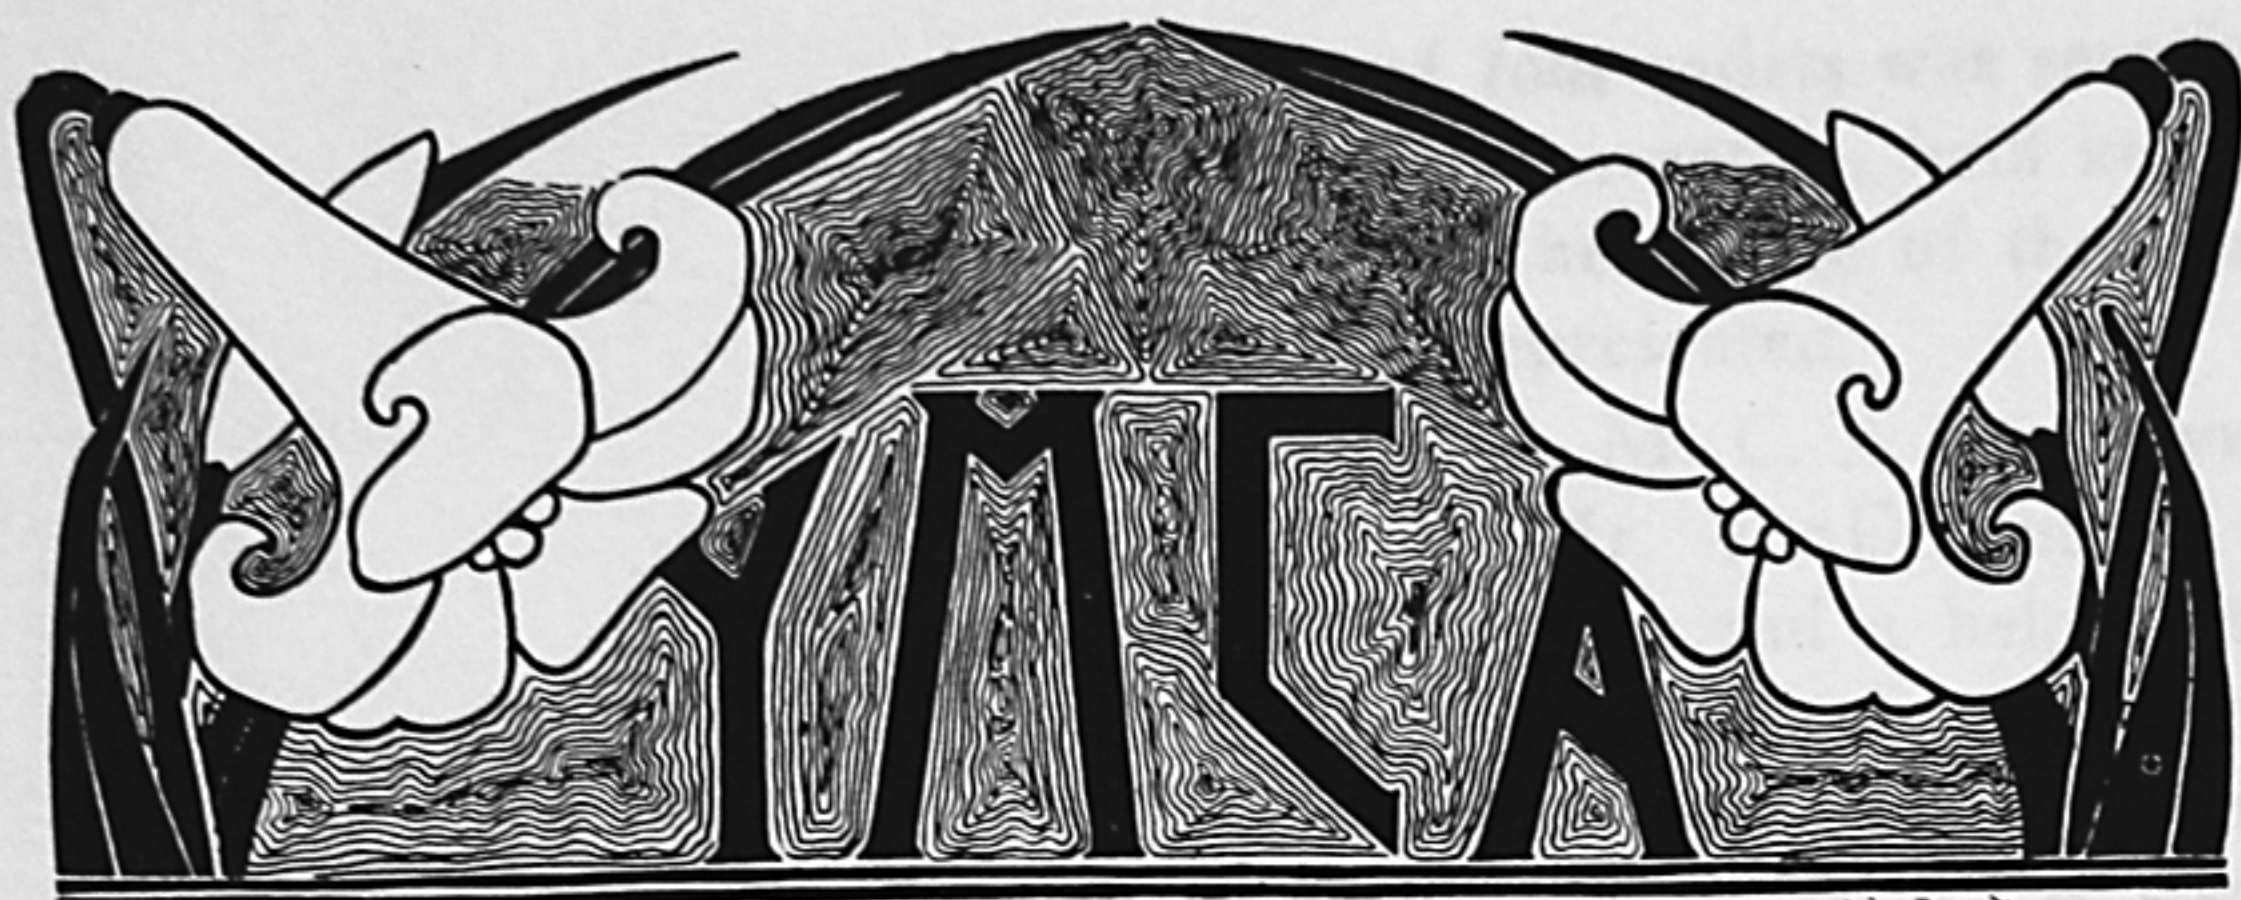

The stars of the game for A. M. A. were Acree, Tallant and Gallagher, Acree doing fine work in the field, while Gallagher and Tallant got home runs.

The game was hard played from start to finish, but Roller's were too much for J. S.

AMONG the institutions and societies of practically every college and school in the United States the Young Men's Christian Association occupies a prominent part. The branch of this world-wide brotherhood located at A. M. A. is no exception to the rule as to its prominence in undergraduate work.

The Y. M. C. A. has a membership of about seventy per cent. of the corps, and the meetings conducted every Sunday night by one of the cadets are largely attended.

The membership is divided into two classes, active—church members—and associate, non-church members. Only the active members have the right to hold office or to vote.

The meetings are taken up chiefly with singing, voluntary prayer, the reading of a selection from the Bible and occasionally a talk. We have had the pleasure of having several distinguished speakers during the year, the addresses, of all of whom were appreciated.

The Association is a member of the State Federation and contributes annually to its support. Besides this contribution, the fees of the Y. M. C. A., which are nominal, are devoted to local charitable work.

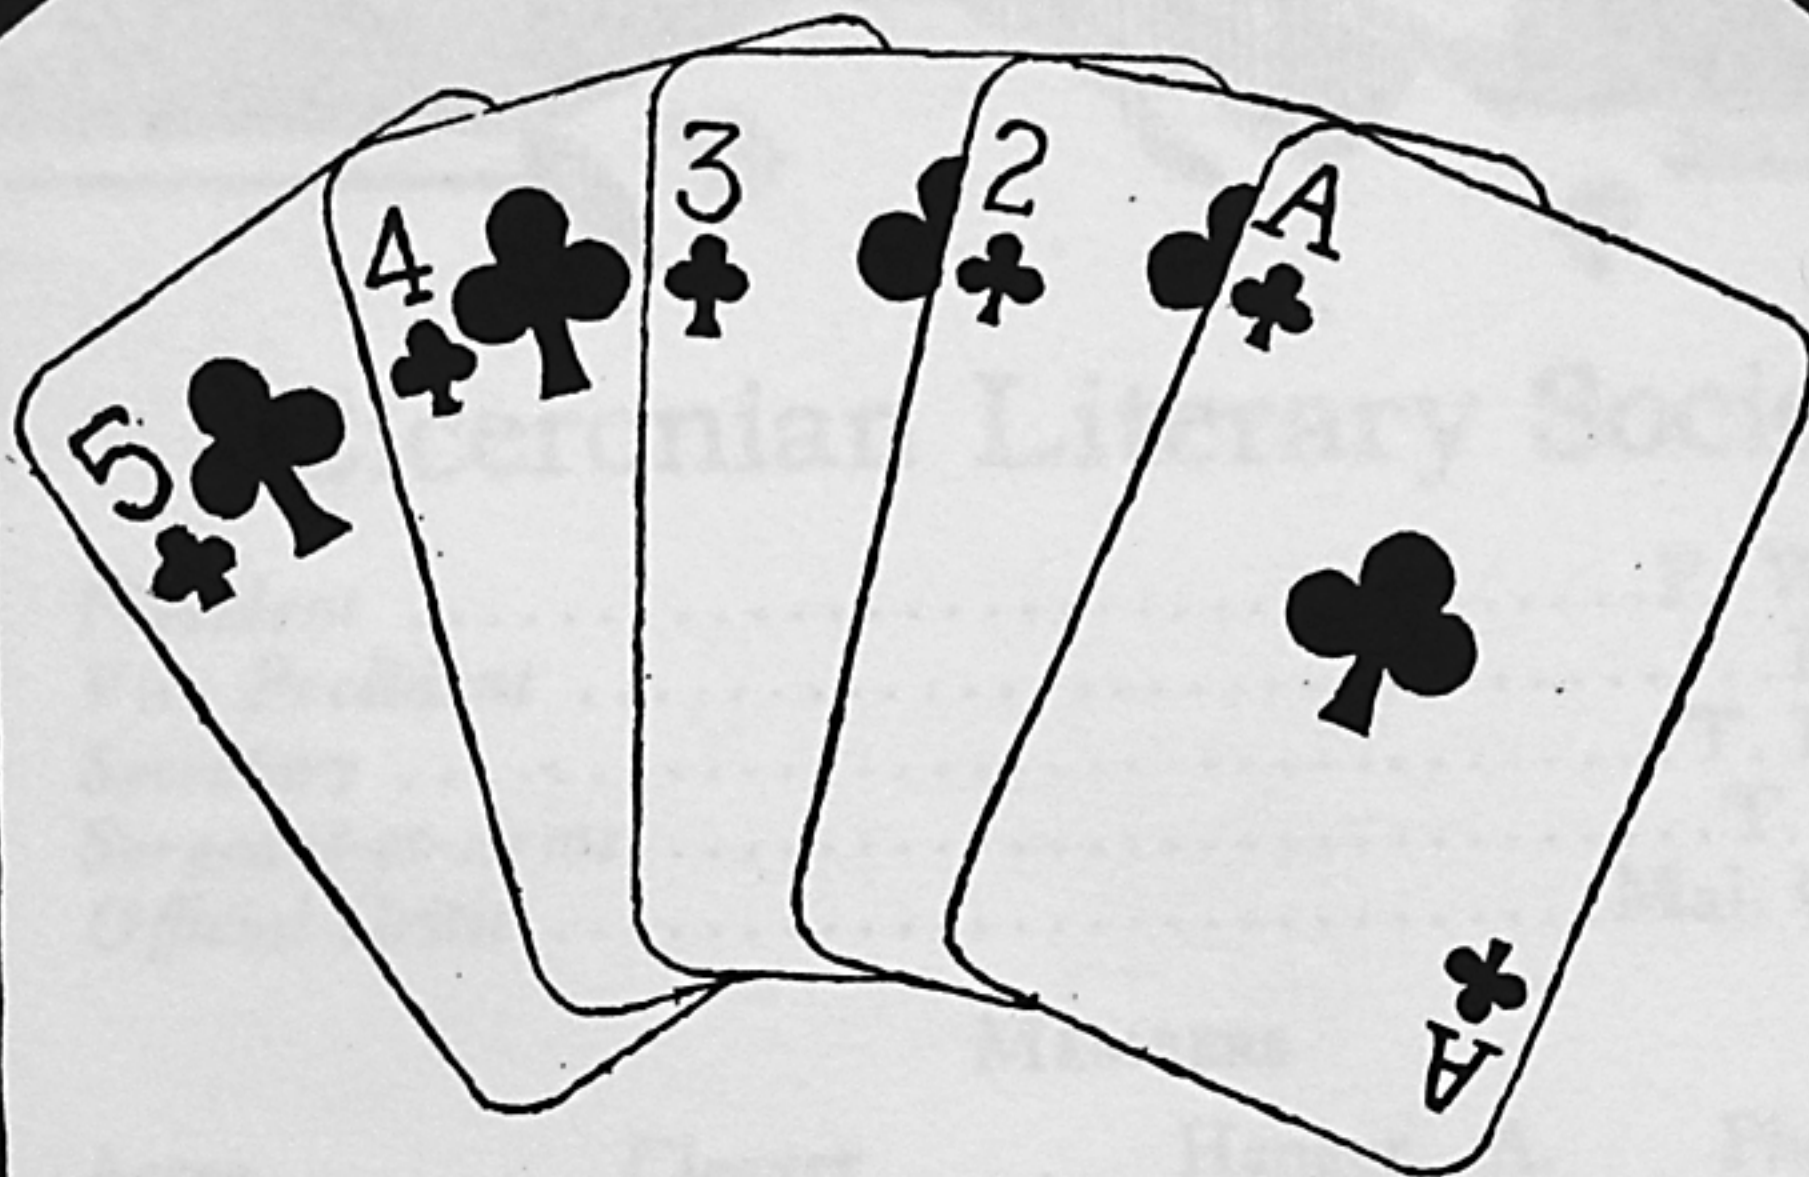

A delegation of four cadets was sent from the Association to the State Convention, held in Roanoke, April 11th-14th, A. M. A. being one of the few preparatory schools of the state represented.

A sketch of the Y. M. C. A. would not be complete without mention of Mr. VanDevanter. His cheerful presence is an inspiration and a help at every meeting when his other pastoral duties do not prevent. We are often the recipients of valued addresses from him, and without his kindly aid the Y. M. C. A.'s standing would be considerably lower.

To Colonel Roller also is due a tribute. Seldom, if ever is he absent from the meetings, and if every cadet followed his example, a much increased attendance would be the result.

May the Y. M. C. A. of the Augusta Military Academy long be instrumental in bringing men and boys in close relationship with their God and in closer Christian communion with their fellow men. If such is the case, the mission of the Y. M. C. A. stands accomplished.

Annual Voting Contest

Very great interest is shown in our voting contest, which is held every year.

Some who are never known to give their opinion, at this time come forward to the rescue, heroic, yet in some cases not exceedingly complimentary of their friends, and try to give them credit for their most striking qualities. The winners in each race are:

1. The "most popular" cadet goes to Morrasy, with Acree second.

2. Acree wins the "most handsome" cadet with ease.

3. Robinson, M., gets the "politest" cadet by an overwhelming majority.

4. The "smartest" cadet is Walters, T.

5. Reid, our successful comedian, is by far the "wittiest."

6. Waters, T., is the "best student," though Gilliam, F., was remembered by many.

7. The "poorest student" is Goodwin, who won a close race with Cohen and Largent.

8. Hight won the "biggest sport" with practically no competition.

9. The "most brass" is without a doubt possessed by the same Hight.

10. Robinson, M., and Walters, T., have fine "school spirit, but the former won out.

11. For the "biggest eater" Hanger, A., and Harman are tied, and most justly too. Carr, Cohen, Ferguson and Smoot come second.

12. Gibbon has the "biggest foot," though many think "Tom" Clemmer should be the man.

13. Hight pushed Rodgers hard for the "biggest ladies' man," but the latter wins.
14. Morrasy is accorded the "best debater."
15. The "best drilled private" in Company A goes to Fraser, second to Ulloa, J.
16. The "best drilled private" in Company B goes to Straughan very easily.
17. The "best drilled private" in the battalion is won by Straughan.
18. The "best officer in A Company" goes to Clemmer, T.
19. The "best officer in B Company is Morrasy.
20. Clemmer, T., is the "best officer in the battalion."
21. Morrasy gets the "most popular officer" with Acree second.
22. Gallagher wins the "best football player."
23. Gallagher again is honored with the "best baseball player."
24. To Gibbon goes the "best basketball player." with Gallagher and Schwalb running strong seconds.
25. The "best tennis player" is Robinson, M.
26. To our little friend, Corse, goes the honor of the "neatest private in the battalion."
27. Carter gets the "best dancer" with Robinson, M., Rodgers, Walters, F., and Carpenter close behind.
28. The "most graceful" is Walters, F., Carter second.
29. Bartholdi had his own way winning the "most awkward" cadet.
30. That much honored cadet, "the laziest" is Goodwin, with Anderson well up in the race.
31. To Gilliam, F., goes the "most industrious."

32. The "best natured," "Chase" Carson gets with ease and deservingly.

33. The two Ulloas are very contented, but Ernest gets the "most contented in school."

34. Hight, twice similarly honored, is given the title of the "biggest bum."

35. Cohen is the "greenest," although Shaver and Argenbright are pretty green.

36. Gallagher possesses the "most grit, with Fraser a worthy second.

37. By a unanimous vote the "best all round athlete" is given to Gallagher.

38. The majority says "A" should be our official monogram instead of an R.

39. Campbell, C. C., gets the "most inquisitive," but Gilliam, F., makes a good question mark.

40. The "most military officer" is also the ranking cadet in school, First Captain T. F. Clemmer.

What 1911-12 Expects to Do in 1912-13

FROM a recent census of the corps, the probable future of the School may be judged for the next year. Particularly gratifying is the number that count on going to college.

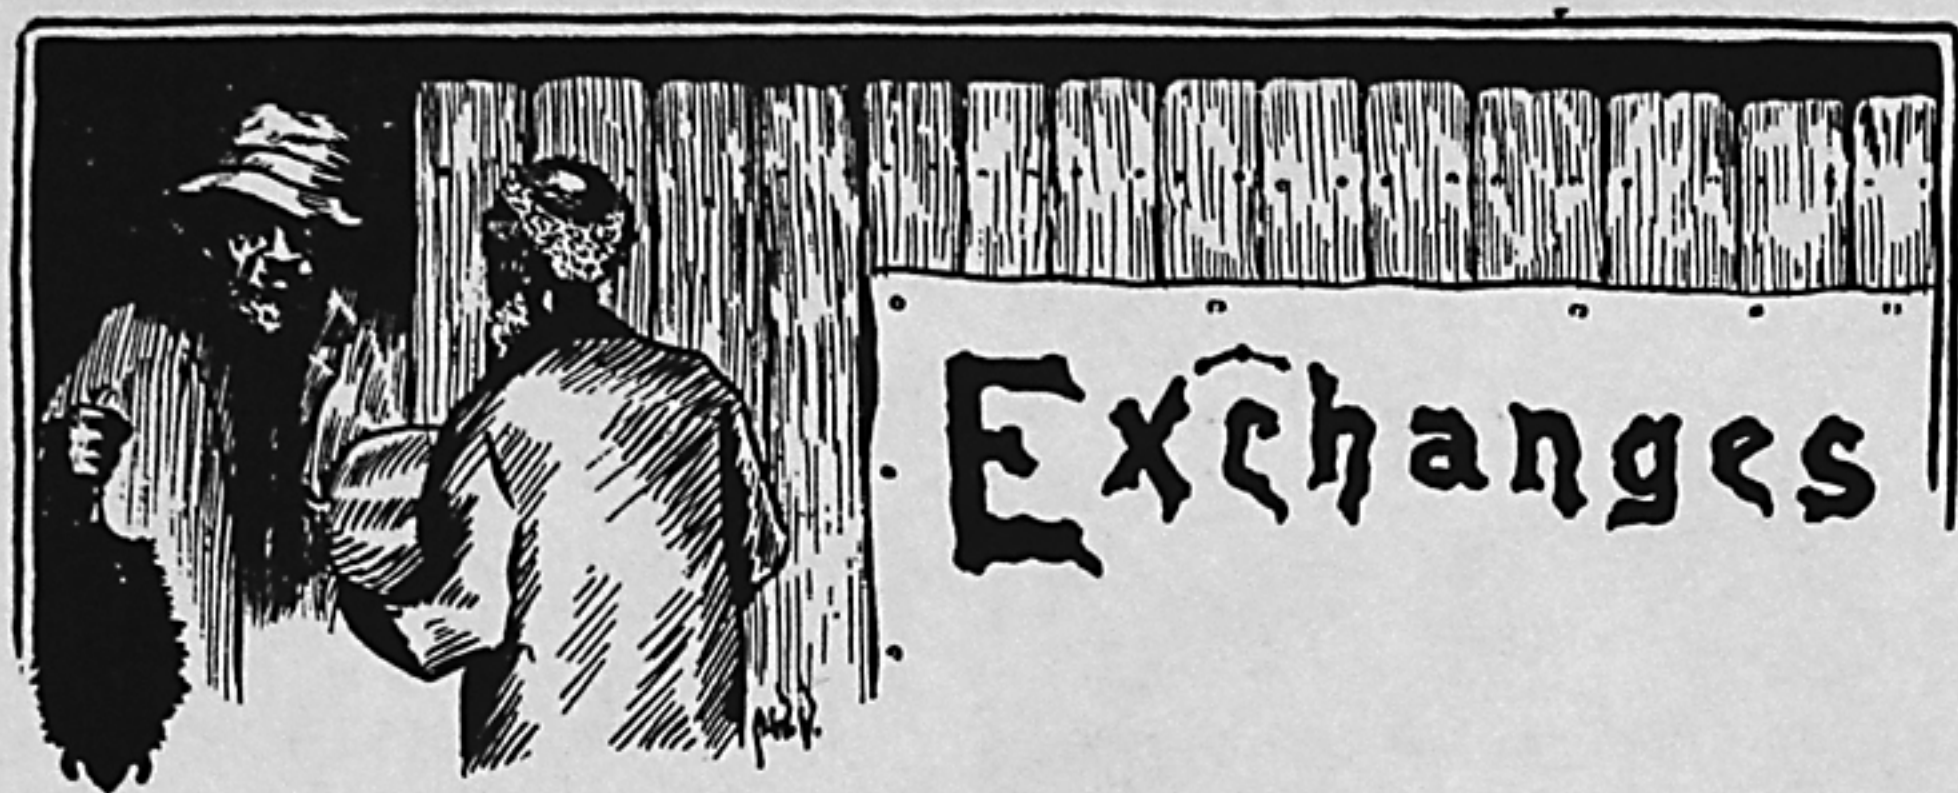

Argenbright, Bartholdi, Bowman, Bradford, Bray, Braxton, Brice, Bruce, Burdett, Campbell, C., Campbell, V., Carson, Catlett, Churchman, Cleaver, Clemmer, F., Clark, S., Cohen, Corse, Collingwood, Crist, Crute, H., Crute, J., Dawson, Dudley, L., Dudley, C., Eads, Ferguson, Fox, Gallagher, Gibbon, Gilliam, R., Goodman, Goodwin, Gregg, Gunby, Hamlin, Hanger, P., Hoover, Hughes, Hanger, J., Harrington, Henderson, Hight, Liebler, Linn, Leitch, Loth, Long, Mason, McGuire, Neff, Paisley, Peple, Powell, W., Ray, Robinson, W., Schwalb, Smoot, Stephenson, Straughan, Shaver, Sharp, J., Ulloa, E., Ulloa, J., Vicars, Waters, F., Waters, T., Wright, Wingfield expect to return to A. IN this, the final number of THE BAYONET, we shall endeavor to give a general criticism of our ex-opportunity to thank all of our contemporaries for changes for the past year. We wish also to use this their kindness in exchanging. We have endeavored to criticise in a friendly and helpful spirit, and have tried to hold for our motto the words which we think every exchange should use—"With malice toward none and good will toward all."

One of, if not the best, exchange received is the Monthly Chronicle, a tasteful combination of well-executed cuts and live athletic news, together with literary material above the standard forms a very attractive exchange.

The Micellany is in a class by itself when it comes to literary attainment, for in this department it excels all other exchanges. But is it right to stint other parts of school life to give this feature prominence?

Taps for the past year has contained some excellent material. A slight drawback to the magazine is their brief athletic department.

The Oracle, though rather a small magazine, has a choice collection of material, which, we believe, would even be more attractive to one acquainted with the students, as it is local to a high degree.

The Critic is all that could be hoped or expected from a public high school. One of its best features is the scarcity of typographical and spelling mistakes—a feature to be cultivated.

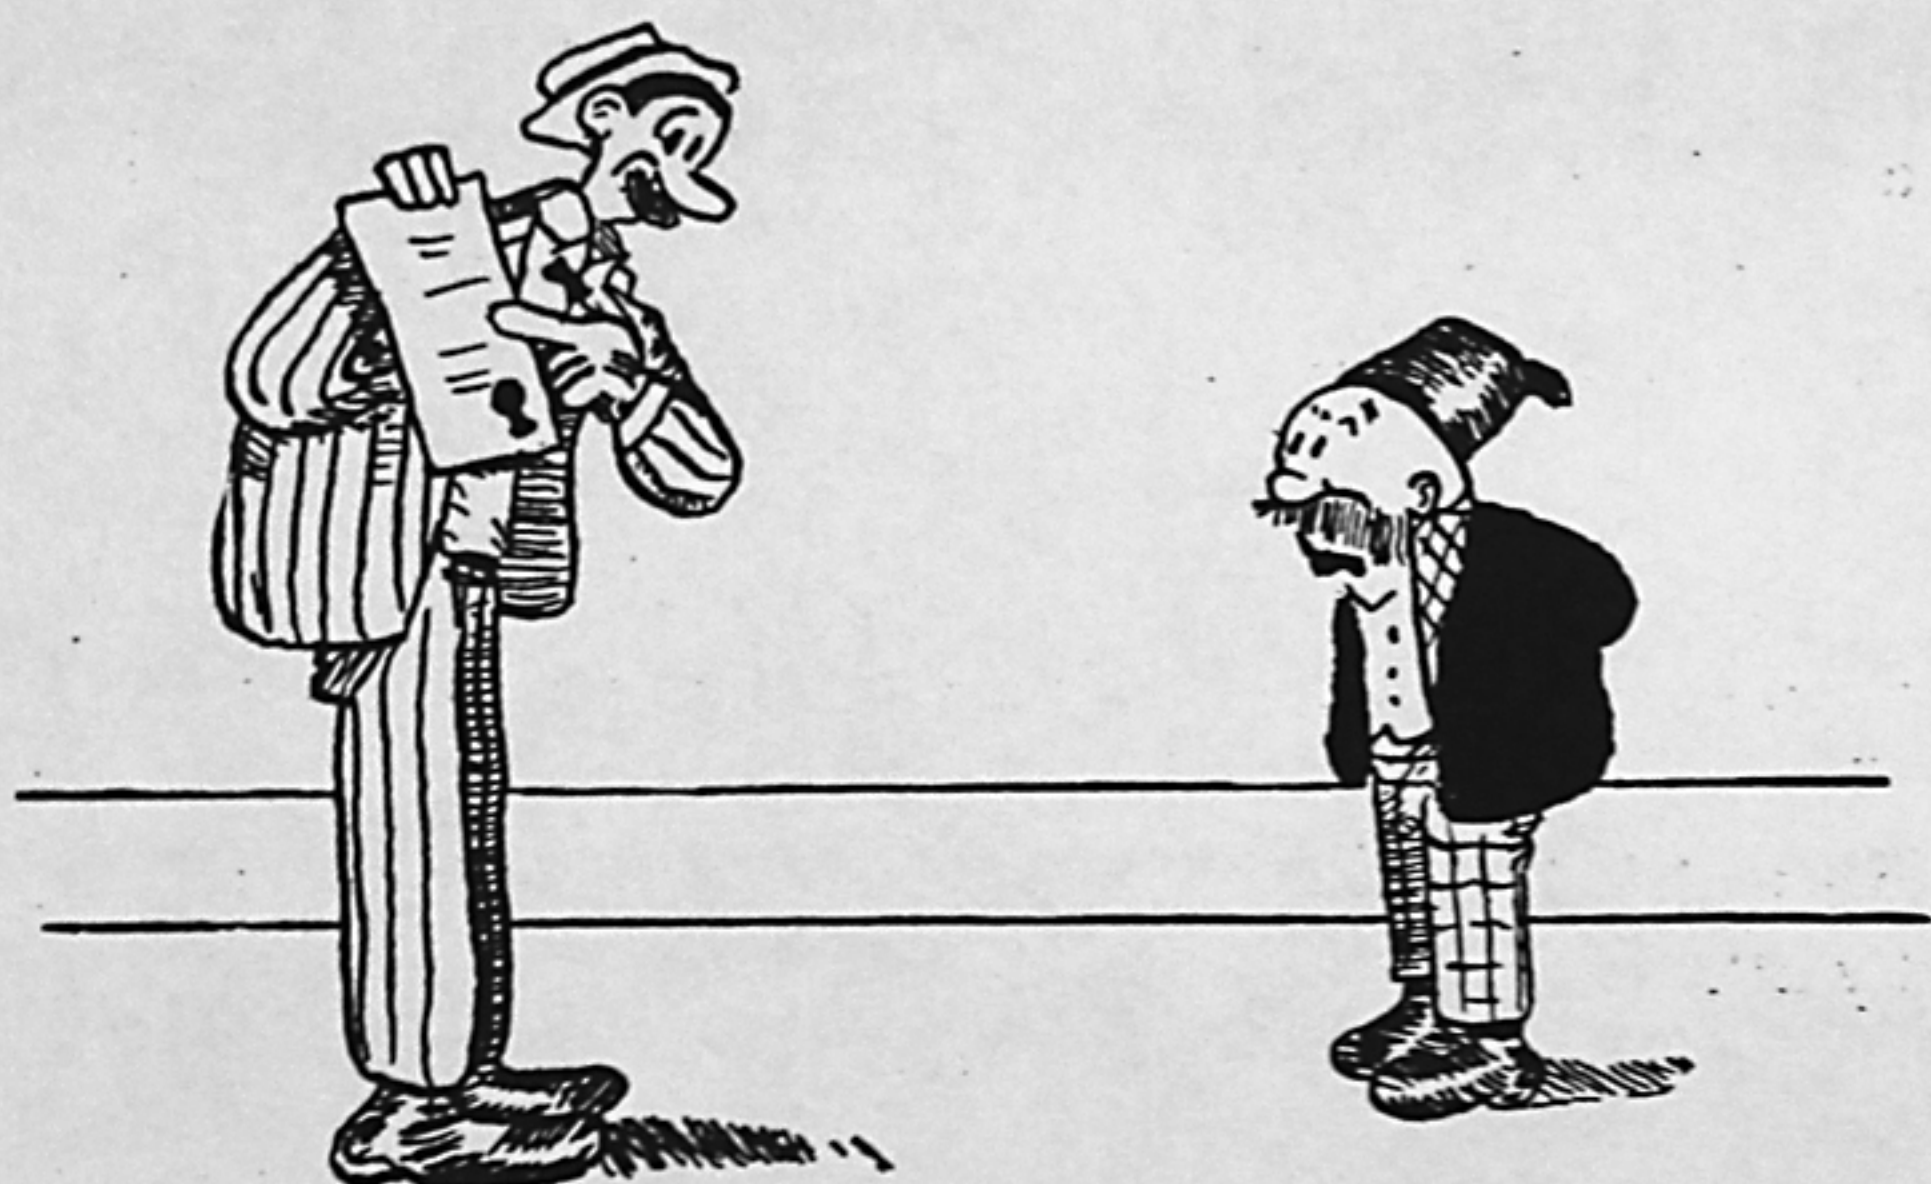

We do not undertake to criticize our college exchanges, The Cadet, Hampden-Sidney Magazine, and The Southern Collegian. Suffice it to say that they have proved helpful in a large degree and have been enjoyed by all.

We acknowledge with heartiest thanks, the following:
The Acta, The Cadet, The Critic, The Monthly Chronicle, The Oracle, The Round-Up, The Rambler, The Record, The Skirmisher, The Windmill, The Trumpeter, Hampden-Sidney Magazine, The Miscellany, Orange and White, Ogontz Miscellany, Southern Collegian, Taps, Stephenson Seminarian.

Personals

Reid—Do you approve of dancing?

She—No.

Reid—Why not?

She—Why it's mere hugging set to music.

Reid—Well, what is there about that you don't like?

She—The music.

Carter—That Miss—— is the poorest conversationalist I ever met.

Wheeler—Is that so?

Carter—Yes, the only thing she said to me during the whole dance was "No" and I had to propose to her to get her to say that.

He—Shall we bunny?

She—No, let's just sit down and hug.

Major—Kendall, you are charged with talking back to an officer. Have you anything to say?

Kendall—Not a word, I have said too much already.

"Joined in June" is the way a southern newspaper heads a wedding report.

This suggests a few other alliterations, as "Fastened in February," "Mated in May," "Attached in August," "Spliced in September," and "Divorced in December."
—Boston Transcript.

A colored preacher, in closing his sermon, addressed the congregation, "And now let us pray for the people of the uninhabited portion of the earth."

—Ex.

Acree—Why didn't Becket enter the half-mile race?
Collingwood—He doesn't believe in doing things by halves.

Gibbon's first visit to the zoo—Say, Gregg, what's that long thing he swings around in front of him?

Gregg—That's his trunk.

Gibbon—Well, I guess that little one behind him is his suit case.

He—I am going to kiss you before I leave.

She—You may leave at once.

Mrs. T. J. R.—Did you post that letter I gave you?

Col. R.—Yes, dear, I carried it in my hand, so I couldn't forget it, and I dropped it in the first mail box. I remember, because——

Mrs. T. J. R.—There, dear, that will do, I didn't give you any letter to post.

Gibbon—A thing of beauty has its own excuse for living.

Capt. M.—Then I wouldn't blame you for committing suicide this evening.

Harman (in Math.)—I'm trying hard to get ahead in this work.

Capt.. R.—Well, you certainly need one.

Hamlin—Why does a blush creep up a girl's face?

Dudley—Because if it ran it would make too much dust.

Capt. M.—The right angle is the one opposite the hypotenuse.

Shields—What is the left angle then?

Mason (while sick)—Doctor, how high will my fever get before it blisters my tongue?

Phelps—What is a Duchess?

Dawson—A wife of a Dutchman.

Crute, H.—Mr. Walker, have you any tan blacking?

May I imprint a kiss upon your cheek?

She nodded her sweet permission.

And I rather think when they went to press,

He printed a large edition.

—Ex.

Goodwin (in III English)—I doesn't do it.

Col. R.—That's wrong.

Goodwin—Then, I doesn't done it.

Carter—I am afraid you are getting cold; shall I take off my coat and put it around you?

She—Yes, you may put it around me, but why take it off?

Lora—Pass me the "Jack" Mede.

Rouse—Have you seen my pants-Hanger?

Collingwood—What is the reason for leap year?

Reid, A.—Girls.

Leinn—What is the definition of allowance?

Carr—Twenty-five cents a week.

Capt. Fitz in spelling class—Liebler, define "mauser."
Liebler—A small mouse.

After spending the greater part of the evening with his friends, John decided that home was the place for him, and arriving there, he decided to sleep in the front yard. Next morning happening to look up, he saw his wife observing him from an open window. "Shut that window," he yelled, "do you want me to catch my death of cold?"

Wingfield—What is your preference as to popular songs?

Dawson—After the brawl is over.

Vicars—Lora, is North Carolina in the United States?

Lora—No, you fool, it's in Canada.

Poet—I hope your novel ends happily?

Author—Indeed it does. It ends in the marriage of the heroine and the hero; does not go into the married life at all.

A professor asked for a composition on Longfellow.

One of the pupils wrote the following: "Henry W. Longfellow was born in Portland, Maine, while his parents were traveling in Europe. He had many fast friends, among whom the fastest were Phoebe and Alice Cary."

OH! SHUT MY FACE

If "She" Waters committed a crime, would Arnold Hanger?

Or if Clemmer, T., was a doctor, would he make a Po-well?

Ray—Who gave you the black eye, Powell?

Powell—Nobody gave it to me, I had to fight for it.

“Dearest, will you marry me?”

“Yes, Allen, dear,” she answered softly. A long silence followed, which at last became painful to his fiancé.

“Allen,” she said desperately, “why don’t you say something?”

“I think,” Allen replied, “there has been too much said already.”

Grat Crawford—My wife often alludes tearfully to the fact that she threw over a millionaire to marry me.

“Boots” Wallser—Mine’s just as bad. Her father offered to buy her a French poodle if she’d turn me down.

BUSINESS

First Man—Life isn’t worth living.

The Solemn Looking Stranger—I agree with you.

First Man—Ah, you then, too, are a pessimist?

The Solemn Looking Stranger—No, I’m an undertaker.

Capt. R.—Ah, I know I had the pleasure of meeting you before. Your name is Boyd, I believe?

She (sweetly)—Well, it used to be Boyd, two or three husbands ago.

Reid—When I arose to speak some one threw a base, cowardly egg at me.

Harrington—And what kind of an egg might that be?

Reid—A base, cowardly egg is one that hits you and then runs.

Major—Wouldn’t you hate to have death staring you in the face?

Col.—No, if you’d seen my wife’s stare you’d realize that death has no terror for me.

I've kissed her pretty, ruby lips,
I've kissed her unawares;
And I've kissed her on the stairs.

I've kissed her in the meantime,
I've kissed her in the park;
I've kissed her inadvertently,
And likewise in the dark.

I've kissed her on the frontier,
And on the left ear, too;
When I couldn't kiss her often
I'd make her forehead do.

I've kissed her on her bended knees,
I've kissed her on the cheek;
I've kissed her by the rivulet,
I've kissed her by the week.

I've kissed her little nose so much,
How much she little knows;
I've kissed her pretty often,
And I've kissed her pretty toes.

Say, when I get a-kissing her,
There's nothing I won't do;
I'll kiss her with abandon,
Yes, without a band on, too!

No, there's nothing I would stop at
When once I'm in the swirl;
Why I'd kiss her in the bathtub—
My six months baby girl.
